Cohousing is a lifestyle. It is living in a community, sharing and caring. When you come home, you feel as though you have stepped into a different place far from the hub of the city. There are generous amenities and organic gardens on acreage. Prospective owners must attend a meeting, a community meal and a question and answer session. The sellers will give a $3000 credit to refinish the hardwood floors.

$285,000

The 4000 foot common house is central to daily life. Here meals are shared, meetings and celebrations take place. Visit <http://pugetridge.net> for more information.
